Decline in India's export share

169. SHRI KALRAJ MISHRA: Will the Minister of COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that India's share in world exports which was 1.5 per cent at Independence, has as per latest records, come down to a mere 0.8 per cent;

(b) if so, whether Government has lately gone into the main causes of such a drastic decline;

(c) what are the main items of exports which have largely suffered; and

(d) whether any new policy or strategy has been worked out to restore India's due place in the world market?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY (SHRI E.V.K.S. ELANGOVAN): (a) to (c) India's share in world exports declined after independence as world exports increased at rapid pace. However, the decline was contained during the 1980s and thereafter India's share in world exports started rising. According to Economic Survey-2004-05, Government of India, India's share in world exports rose from 0.6% in 1999 to 0.7% in 2001. In 2002, India attained 0.8% share in world exports which was broadly maintained in 2003 also. Thus there has been no decline in India's share in world exports in the recent past.

(d) Yes, Sir. A New Foreign Trade Policy (FTP) was announced in August, 2004 with the objective of doubling India's share of global merchandise trade within the next five years. Some of the key strategies adopted in the FTP include: simplification of procedures, reduction in transaction cost, neutralisation of incidence of all levies and duties on inputs used for exports, identification of special focus areas like agriculture, handlooms, handicraft, gems and jewellery, leather and footwear for further promotion. In addition Export Promotion Schemes like 'Vishesh Krishi Upaj Yojna' (Special Agricultural Produce Scheme) and 'Target Plus' have been introduced to further accelerate growth of exports.
